Recent Chi Psi Graduates Reflect on Their Undergraduate Journey

Brother Thejas Rengaswamy E'24

As a recent graduate of the University of Michigan and Alpha Epsilon alumnus, I've spent the past month reflecting on my journey with Chi Psi and my time at Michigan. Joining the effort as the third re-founder to revive Epsilon from dormancy, Chi Psi became the cornerstone of my college experience. Serving as #2 and #1 over three years truly shaped who I am today, providing invaluable leadership skills and connecting me with my closest friends and an incredible network of alumni.

Currently, I'm enjoying life in sunny Orlando, FL, working as an Acquisitions Analyst at Upshot Capital Partners, a Real Estate Private Equity Firm. Leveraging my Bachelor's in Business Administration and minor in Real Estate Development, I'm thrilled about the opportunities ahead. I look forward to staying actively involved in Chi Psi as an alumnus and am excited to attend the upcoming Convention at Alpha Nu. Here's to making more unforgettable memories with my Brothers!

Brother Aidan Szuch E'24

Chi Psi played a very central role in my years as an undergrad at Michigan. By February of my freshman year, I had pledged to become a re-founder. The following August, I moved into the Lodge and experienced our first year back on campus. And last year, as a young senior, I did my best to help our group continue to grow in the right direction. I am truly thankful for all the memories I have with, and the Brotherhood I found within, this group of young men.

Next year, I will be back in the Lodge as the live-in advisor while I pursue a Master's Degree in Computer Science Engineering. With this new role comes a new dynamic for my experience in the Lodge, and I look forward to seeing how the fraternity grows from a more external perspective. This newfound perspective is something I am eager to bring to my role as #2.

Brother Noah Hilbig E'24

Having graduated with a BSE in Mechanical Engineering, I am thrilled to announce that I will be moving to Seattle, WA to work as a project engineer for a small aerospace company. While I am still learning about the specifics of my role, I am eager to dive into the aerospace industry and further develop my engineering skills.

Living in the Lodge over the past two years has been a cornerstone of my college experience. I've built many lifelong friendships with my Brothers, and I am confident that these bonds will endure. The future of Alpha Epsilon looks bright, with the new group of Brothers forming a tight-knit and impressive community. I am genuinely excited about what lies ahead!

I can't wait to return for some football games and catch up with my Brothers in the years to come.

Study Abroad Insights: How Our New #2 Plans to Enrich His Role

By Brother Dom Lucido E'25, #2

Last semester, I had the incredible opportunity to study abroad in Milan, Italy, at one of the top business schools in the world, Bocconi University. This experience was transformative, teaching me the immense value of developing multicultural relationships and broadening my outlook on life.

Living and traveling on another continent allowed me to truly understand and appreciate cultural differences. I learned that "my way" is not the only way to approach a situation, and this realization heightened my sense of humility when faced with uncertainty. This newfound perspective is something I am eager to bring to my role as Internal VP.

Next semester, I am excited to oversee Brotherhood activities. My time abroad has equipped me with a deeper understanding of diverse backgrounds, enabling me to curate events that celebrate our differences respectfully. On the service side, I aim to emphasize that not everyone is as fortunate as we are. This message will be crucial in galvanizing our Brothers toward successful and meaningful service efforts.

I am immensely grateful for the chance to experience life and education in a new culture. I look forward to applying my learnings and sharing my experiences in my role as #2, ensuring that our Brotherhood thrives on mutual respect and understanding.
